BLUEBERRIES

- Beautiful
- Profitable
- Very Ornamental
- Lasts a Lifetime

Not only do cultivated BLUEBERRIES produce large juicy berries 2 to 3 times as large as common Blueberries, resembling a bunch of Delaware Grapes, but they are beautiful ornamentals, ranging from 6 to 8 feet in height. Foliage is dark green and narrow. Blooms bell-shaped and pinkish white. Here in Berrien County the HEART OF THE FRUIT BELT local growers are planting Blueberries extensively and receiving rich harvests ranging from $1,000 to $1,500 per acre. Each year they are increasing their acreage. Orders from these farmers are so numerous that it is not possible to propagate Blueberries fast enough.

Cross Pollenization

At least two plants should be planted together for cross pollenization. This insures more and larger berries.

Westhauser's BLACKBERRIES

Eldorado—Productive, Firm and Profitable

The choice of commercial grower and housewife for the good old-fashioned jams, pies, preserves and fresh fruit for the table, coming just after Raspberry season, when but little other fruit is available. They ripen 10 days after Dewberries and the harvest extends to the fore part of September; they are the last of all spring and summer berries in the season and the trade is willing to pay well for them. The canes grow sturdy and upright, and are hardy enough to need no winter protection.

The berries are large, uniform in size, jet black, and do not turn red after being picked. They have a flavor that always calls for more and are firm enough to ship to distant markets, assuring good prices.

Its sturdiness and freedom from disease, especially orange rust, the common enemy of all Blackberries, has made ELDORADO the leading variety with the commercial grower.

Alfred—The Coreless Blackberry

The coreless Blackberry, originated in Michigan, the state that produces fruit with the flavor. The color is a glossy jet black, the flavor sweet and delicious, and it is nearly seedless and coreless. A hardy plant that produces mammoth berries, often 1 3/4 inches long. It does equally well in cold sections. Why not include a few in your order and get started raising this profitable berry?

How to Grow Boysenberry

Set plants 8 by 8 ft. in and between rows. Let the vines creep on the ground the first year. To be safe, cover the plants with straw, leaves or soil before heavy frosts. When the buds appear, tie the vines to the wire or trellis about 2½ feet above the ground. After fruiting, cut the plants to the ground and burn vines. Repeat this practice every year.

We, being pioneers in Boysenberries, are able to offer you Northern grown, healthy, heavy-rooted plants. Tested and hardened to the Northern climate and proven to withstand sub-zero weather. This is your insurance of absolute success.

Its color, when cooked without peeling, is as attractive as that of Raspberries. Not grown from seed. Plants propagated by division. Try some this year. You will like it.
